MOA COPS MASCOT PRIZE

It was a close race, but Bob the Moa topped Jaspur the Cat by 3 votes to 2. Andy Lischett will now assume the duties of Diplomacy Hobby Mascot Custodian, probably for the rest of his life, since the Moa is already extinct.

It was almost a genuine 3-way race, but Some Sick Thing didn't get any votes (and I still don't know the identity of the Thing). No write-ins or invalid ballots were received.

GERMANY-LSD: Your speculation on p.2 of LSD#38 that getting myself into this mess was my gameplan all along could be misconstrued as a veiled insult. That is like suggesting I try to get caught in my own zipper.

LSD-GERMANY: Ouch!

GERMANY-ITALY: There is honor and dignity in mere survival, even when it is at your mercy.

ENGLAND: With Germany intent on suiciding to an Italian victory, why don't we just end this gracefully? Vote yes to the draw.

DEAR KRAUT: Give yourself a break today; play for the 4-way.

JEFF-LSD: I played Russia in 8ICE, not Germany. I did submit a country preference list for the Mockingbird game, and I did not get my first or second country preference as you mentioned everyone received. David Pierce's address appears to be incorrect as the 55--- zip code is for Minnesota, or the Ohio is incorrect. I'm not sure what the problem is.

LSD-JEFF: My records show that you did indeed express a preference for GAFRXXX. Somehow a gremlin changed that to FAFRXXX (which doesn't make any sense at all). I hope you don't mind playing France too terribly much. You deserve my apologies for the boo-boo and my thanks for keeping me on my toes. And Dave's zip is 55337 in MN.

MOSCOW: A cold winter to start the new century. blizzards and a cold wind howling across the frozen steppes. Rumours of discontent and expansionist plan of the nations of the west have reaches the Tsar in the winter palace at Sevastopol. Intelligence has reached the foreign office that the Kruppenwerke in the Ruhr operates 24 hours a day, that the British shipbuilding yards are taking no orders for passenger liners yet maintain full employment. Ominous too is the news that France and Italy have recalled each other's ambassadors. News has also come to Sevastopol that the Serbians have held democratic elections much to the chagrin of the Tsar's cousin in Vienna. And to complete the circle of ill omens the Sultan of Constantinople has asked for and received agreement for a secret meeting between the two leaders. By the time this note is published Sultan David and the Tsar will have had their conference in the Black Sea and most probably the Great Alliance will have been declared.

AUSTRIA-RUSSIA: Forego?

FROM THE ITALIAN EMPIRE HQ: Greetings to the powers of Europe. Italy's friends will be glad to have met us. Our enemies will be very sorry. The Italian pledges honesty and openness and asks that you keep those cards and letters coming.

LSD-EMPEROR GALLIGHERI: Honest and open? Snort!

N., Dickinson, TX 77539 (phone 713-337-4110). He's expecting three full boards. Call to reserve your spot if you're going to be in the Houston area around Thanksgiving. It'll be a great way to escape the relatives.

BER-LSD: Glad to be aboard for your final game and hope it is a good one. Might take a while to get the Imperial Press in gear, though. So many targets, but so few angles as of yet. Our yellow journalism dept. is prepping itself for a - hopefully - long campaign and we'll see what develops the next few seasons.

> Rick Ragsdale brought it to my attention that the Russian fleet in Smyrna used to be an army. After checking back through my records, I find that in fall 1904 Russia ordered A Smy s F Bla-Con. I misprinted the unit in Smy as a fleet in the game report. No one (including myself) noticed the error until now. Thus, under LSD houserules, the unit remains a fleet. Errors will be corrected if they are reported before the deadline for the next moves. There's no question my "act of God" affected the game; but the only way I know to compensate for the effects of the transformation (however they may be interpreted) is through diplomacy.

AUSTRIA-WORLD: Why not end the bloodshed now and prevent a long drawn affair that will end in a 4-way draw anyway? Vote for peace.

LONDON-TAIPAN: Your shallow attempt to plant baseless rumours about "Limy Sniffing" will not injure our partnership. A quick glance at the map will show that we are ill-deployed to betray each other, something that cannot be said of the other partnership.

RUSSIA-ENGLAND: "Who's that knocking at my door?/ Who's that knocking at my door?"/ Said the fair young lady./ "I'm here with my crew,/ and I've come to screw,"/ Said Barnacle Bill the Sailor.

Post Office of Texas

Mike--

My last name is pronounced any number of different ways. I usually use Mi-LUE-skee. My father was a closet anglophile. Beats me why. But then, he married my mother, and why he did that will always remain a mystery to me. Strange are the ways of the Buddha. Stranger still the ways of Western Man. That was one of my father's favorite sayings. I think he heard it in a Charlie Chan movie. I don't speak a word of Polish. Never have. And I have the opinion of a quack dermatologist that I have an Irish complexion. I was happy to get out of his office alive.

AUSTRIA-LONDON: So you let the cat out of the bag. Guess it's been no secret you were going for the win all the time. Seems you fooled ol' Fritz into really believing you wanted a draw.

AUSTRIA-ROME: Glad to see you on the right side. But it looks like it's too late. Oh well, it's only a game, plus it's better late than never.

AUSTRIA-GERMANY: Get rid of your chains! Come unto the side of Freedom and Righteousness! Revolt! All you have to lose is your puppet strings!

AUSTRIA-TURKEY, GERMANY, & ITALY: Come on guys, we have to get together now, or lose our heads. Death to the English Dog!

AUSTRIA-GM: I'm all for your HR changes, thought they were good ideas. But you know how it is with this hobby; it's hard to teach an old dog new tricks.

LSD-BRYAN: Yeah. It seems like conservatism is not restricted to politics. But hey, I'm easy! I don't mind playing this way.
